ALMA MATER

Fair star of Carolina, our college glorious,
Our College loved by all, to thee we sing,
May she forever shine, clear and bright, victorious,
To her our song of loyalty we bring,
Fling wide the red and black.
O sing aloud her praises!
This is the song we sing,
Lenoir-Rhyne to thee!

Fair star of Carolina, our Alma Mater,
Our college best of all in this broad land,
Thou best beloved of every son and every daughter,
Thy children hail thy name on every hand.
Fling wide the red and black,
O sing aloud her praises!
This is the song we sing,
Lenoir-Rhyne to thee!

The summer had ended and college age students began preparing to return to "their" respective colleges and Universities.

About 1400 of those direct their attention to a "Small liberal arts college in Hickory, NC . . . Lenoir-Rhyne college.

Arriving on the campus of any institution for the first time can be somewhat of an overwhelming experience in different ways. So it is at Lenoir-Rhyne.

For some it may be that frightening experience of being separated from the security of home and still others are flabbergasted by the unlimited freedom that college life seems to offer.

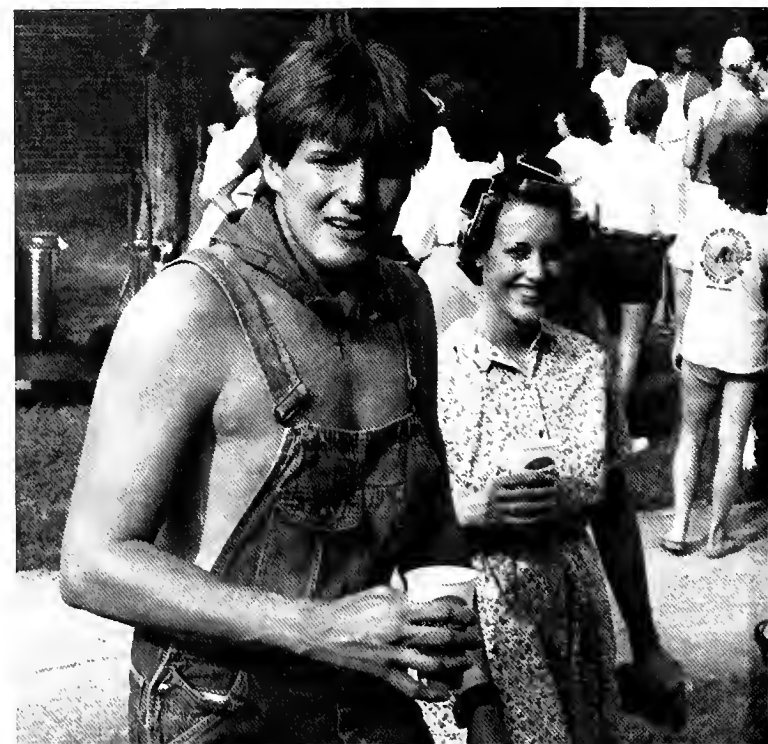

Although the student arriving on L-R's campus may experience the aforementioned feelings, or any combination of feelings, there is that atmosphere of friendliness and general concern among the faculty, staff, and students.

Wandering around campus the first few days of school, I noticed excitement about the beginning of a new year. One that promised graduation for some and another step up the educational ladder for all.

With these questions and other concerns neatly addressed by President Allran, the year progressed with students and faculty/staff generally feeling good about another year.

In a matter of days the Freshman and Transfers had accustomed themselves to the campus with the returning students "casing" back into the groove of studying and taking advantage of the other activities offered to L-R students.

—Donald Anthony

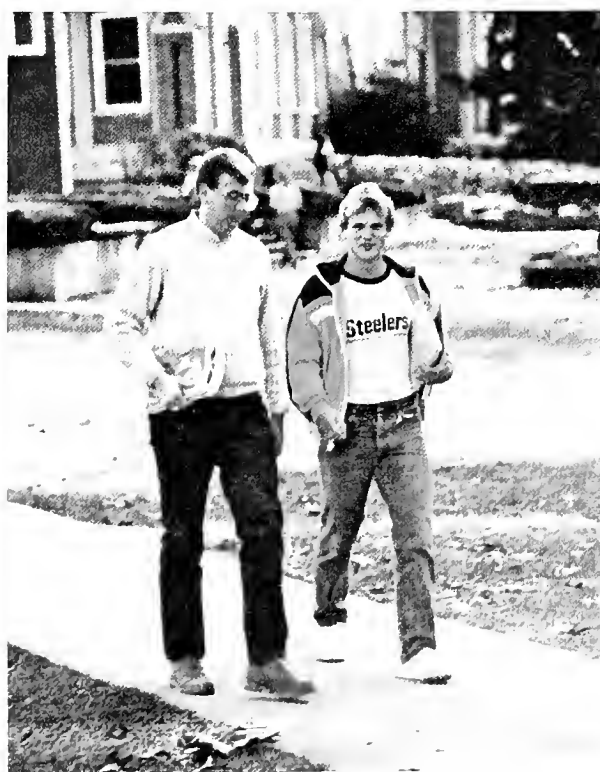

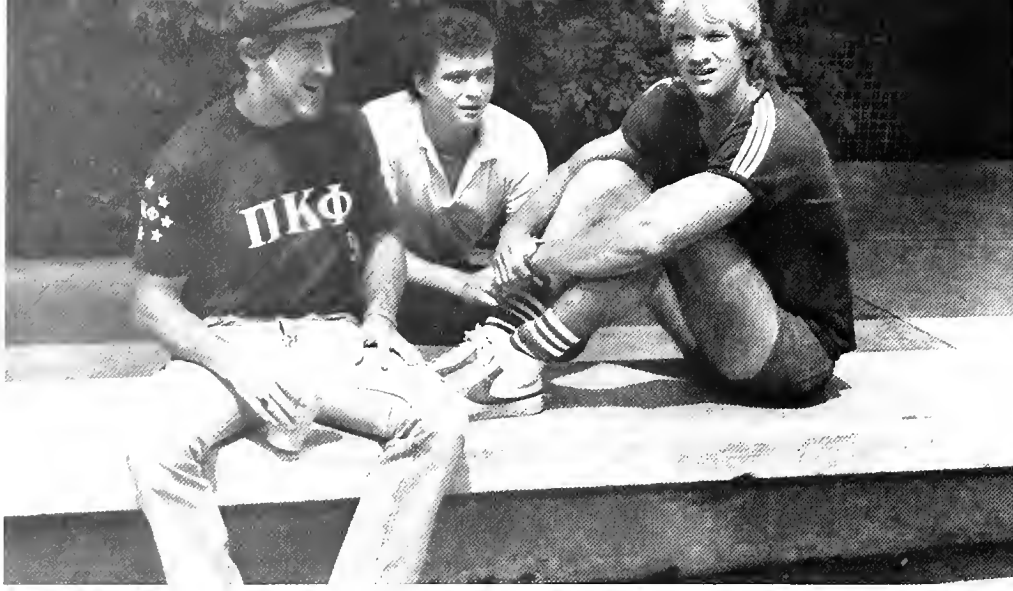

I have often wondered if Lenoir-Rhyne being a Christian school meant something to the high school senior deciding on where to spend the next four years . . . a decision which affects a lifetime. For many, including myself, I think it did (sometime count how many PKs-preacher's kids—there are on campus). For the rest, I think that the church has influenced them in many ways since August of their freshman year.

What does it mean to be a Christian college? I think it is much more than wearing a suit or dress to lunch on Sunday or muttering over the momentary chaos created by a Lutheran Youth Day. The Lutheran Church was very intentional in having a Christmas philosophy along side the liberal arts philosophy at Lenoir-Rhyne. We are challenged by Christ's message in Biology, Accounting, and on the athletic field. It's not just whether we make a profit in business or whether we master the Spanish language. Because we are Christians we have a responsibility to view other human beings as children of God. The concept of "Love Thy Neighbor" must be realized at the office, in the classroom, on the residence hall, and with the nameless face staring at us from a Third World country. The Christian philosophy at Lenoir-Rhyne enables us to develop the goal: We must radically change the way we treat our fellow humans and our earth. The liberal arts education we receive equips us with the knowledge we need to accomplish is the office of the chaplain. Since January, 1983, the Rev. Don Just has been a highly visible and energetic pastor to the college community. He has helped the many student religious groups on campus (FCA, LSM, BSU, the Canterbury club, Fools for Christ and others) aside from the multitude of worship experience he has set up during the week. Chapel on Wednesday morning, Thursday night communion, and an informal 8:30 Sunday morning service, attract campus participation. Just has also begun evening devotions in a different residence area each week night. The chaplain's concern has not been on large numbers at each event, but rather for the quality of the worship experience for those who choose to attend.

—Luther B. Faggart

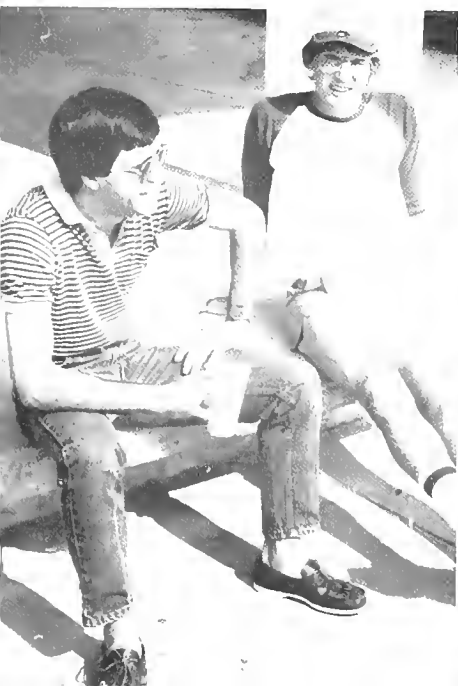

As an incoming freshman, I came to Lenoir-Rhyne not really knowing what to expect. Like most freshmen, I didn't know anyone but from the moment I arrived, everyone was so friendly and I came to feel right at home.

There is a genuine sense of caring, friendship and togetherness that everyone feels at Lenoir-Rhyne. College is such an important and challenging part of every individual life—it's a time to begin a new way of life, a life when one is caught between old traditions and new challenges, searching for a new identity and chartering a course for the future. Students come to college searching for friends to share experiences and who will listen and help solve problems. The search for a meaningful relationship to society and with friends begins and is fulfilled at Lenoir-Rhyne. Not only are strong and real friendships among students a dominant feeling on this campus, but the relationship between the faculty and administration with the students also shows the feelings of caring and togetherness that Lenoir-Rhyne can be proud of. Personally, the close friendships I've developed over the last four years here have made a considerable impact and have been a very valuable part of my life. These memories will never be forgotten.

—Patty Anthony

Going to college is fun. We try to make the best of our time and have fun while doing it. We know we have to study, so we discover ways to make it fun, like with a friend or with someone we would like to know better.

While in school we make new friends — ones that will last. We can remember the times we laughed while walking to class or going out and hitting the town. What we make of our years spent here at Lenoir-Rhyne are memories that we think of as campus life.

—Catharine Johnston

Lenoir-Rhyne is more than just tests, books, and classes. Many activities take place that help to broaden our educational experiences and provide fun and relaxation.

Convocations are scheduled throughout the year and include performers, political and motivated speakers, and scholars. Forums on topics ranging from athletics to our national and world problems are held frequently.

On the lighter side, L-R has an excellent athletic program. Our facilities are exceptional for a small college and they are open to all students. Our varsity sports are very competitive and attract many fans from the Hickory area. Our intramural program gives every student the opportunity to participate and enjoy sports ranging from flag football and soccer, to swimming, volleyball, softball and others.

Program Board and different organizations on campus sponsor many different events including dances, open houses, male beauty pageants (Mr. LRC), pig-pickins', etc. One of the biggest happenings each year is Homecoming with M*A*S*H being this year's theme. A great deal of hard work is put into the pep rally, parade, dance, etc. and it is always a success.

So there is more to L-R than just hitting the books . . . a lot more.

"We never needed to worry about clothes for Sunday. We all wore uniforms. Each fall the girls were lined up and measured for dark blue serge suits. When spring came many bolts of white material were ordered, a heavier type for skirts, a daintier type for blouses. They were made by a Miss None Miller who lived on campus in a house which stood where the south side of Cromer Center now stands.

"Girls could not walk up town or anywhere off campus unchaperoned. Walking behind them must either be a faculty member or a senior wearing cap and robe. Also caps and robes were worn by the seniors to church during the senior year in college.

"It was definitely against the rules for the boys and girls to have dates, except each first Monday night which was termed 'call night.' At that time the boys went to the dormitory and rang the bell. It was answered by an especially appointed person who asked whom they wished to see, then the girl was summoned.

"However after call night if the boys and girls were permitted to attend a performance together, as a lecture, a musical or debate, the next call night was cancelled.

"Everyone attended church on Sunday. Sunday afternoons were lovely. We were not supposed to study on Sunday. It was sinful. We had no classes on Mondays. That day was set aside for studying, cleaning rooms and washing any clothes necessary. There was no visiting between boys and girls on Sunday, except brothers and sisters could visit during certain hours. It was rather amusing to see some students who claimed relationships with others.

"On Sunday afternoons the students walked back and forth for hours on what was then called 'The War Path.' This path (dirt) began on the corner of the campus next to St. Andrew's Church and curved around by the girls' dormitory and back to the starting point. The students were not supposed to stop or talk, but one would be amazed at how notes, etc. could be passed from one hand to another without stopping or saying a word.

INTERVIEWER: What was dating like? How did the boys and girls get together?

NARRATOR: Once a month we were permitted to have call night. The boys wrote formal notes to their girls asking permission to call. The girls responded in the same formal manner, accepting or rejecting. And for those who were going steady as Craig and I did for the last two and a half years we were there, why, it was different.

Craig continued to write the formal note each time. And he was very precise and sedate, but he ended it by saying, if it was alright and I would accept for me not to bother to answer. And so I didn't answer. Aside from formal dates, another time we could talk with one another was in the evening after dinner. All the students got out and walked back and forth — rather, strolled up and down the Warpath, which was the driveway from Old Main to the entrance of the campus, at the corner down where St. Andrew's is. We couldn't walk with the boys, but they walked just behind us and we could have many good talks together. Back and forth and back and forth we strolled.

There was also another (pause) date that we had each spring, we had a faculty-student picnic. It was out on the Catawba River. There was no dam on the river then, so there was no lake. The College furnished the picnic lunch. That was always a happy time, a gala time because we were with our lovers all day long. We walked to and from the river. It was a delightful time.

INTERVIEWER: Were your rooms checked to see if you were in the bed?

NARRATOR: Yes, they would usually check once in a while, and if you were making too much noise, they would come and shoo us down. And if we were in another room after ten o'clock, we were supposed to be in our rooms by a certain time, and if somebody slipped up from another hall, you know, from the back hall came up to the front — if they were in the wrong room, sometimes they'd land up in the closet and hide. And the teachers would look in, they didn't find them of course, so they would go on. They checked to see that every one was in their rooms at a certain time.

INTERVIEWER: Do you remember any of the stories about Freshman hazing?

NARRATOR: Oh yes. We didn't have too much of it among the girls, but the boys did a good bit of this. We can remember the boys being paraded around the dormitory in their shorts . . . underclothes. Of course, we'd all run to the windows, if we could keep anybody from seeing us, to find out what was going on. Then they had certain flag pole incidents. The Sophomore Class would have to keep their flag up over night on a certain special day and the boys would struggle all night long to see that the flag was kept on the top of the pole. I remember one girl in our dormitory. The Sophomores took her a great bunch of shoes to polish as one of her. . . to be accepted into the class. She polished some of them and on some she wrote, "Merry Christmas" on them and different things like that. But I think the girls enjoyed wearing a dress backwards or something like that once in a while.

INTERVIEWER: Could you describe any of the activities going on at the College? Chapel? Luther League?

NARRATOR: Yes, we had compulsory chapel every morning whether you had class or not that morning. To me, this was very meaningful. I learned a great variety of hymns that I would never have known if it hadn't been for those exercises. The fact of the matter, if you went to church at night, you could have a date. You could get to see the boys, which was quite a unique experience. But these were very meaningful to me and then we did have some other religious activities . . . groups that would meet for special purposes.

A Legend of Lenoir-Rhyne

The story goes, that on the right night, one can hear sounds in Highland: sounds of talking, laughter and weeping. Possibly, you may hear something or someone walking the halls, closing doors, or climbing stairs. What is it that roams the half-century old building? No one really knows, but one explanation is that there is a presence here, someone who does not want anything in Highland Hall to change. A presence who jams doors, short circuits lights, and plays havoc on furniture, windows, and unwelcome visitors.

As in most legends, here on the campus, the most recent and investigatable reports of strange activity come from users of the buildings and security guards: those who spend regular amounts of time in the buildings. Highland is no exception.

L.R.C. Playmakers, who in recent years have used third floor Highland for make-up rooms and costuming — have experienced the presence of the Highland ghost. Doors that have no locks on them have been found unopenable on many late night working sessions. Foot steps heard in the hall, are never seen. Furthermore, L.R.C. security reports similar occurrences on their nightly rounds through the building. The Highland legend is the only spectre whose actions sometime take on aggressive tendencies.

On a relatively quiet night, a security guard on a regular check of Highland, encountered footsteps on the stairs. Investigating, he climbed the stairs to the third floor landing, only to have the fire door slam shut in his face. Finding the door free to the touch, he entered onto the hall, only to hear movement at one end. Proceeding down a maze of stored furniture, the guard found lamps, chairs and other furniture strewn in his way. Finding lights and switching them on, he searched the entire hall — finding nothing. So, with this in mind, we'll leave the mystery of Highland Hall to your solving.

In Memoriam

Edsel Hoyle

1924-1983

Professor Edsel Hoyle taught Marketing, Business Law, and Real Estate to a generation of students. Joining the faculty in 1953, he served his alma mater with a loyalty that impressed all who knew him. Few have, for so long, had so close an association with Lenoir-Rhyne; and few have had such a deep and abiding interest in the College's many activities. His untimely death on June 26, 1983 took this quiet yet vigorous man from our midst. We will miss him.

STUDENT LIFE

During Acting President Allran's two years at Lenoir-Rhyne a number of outstanding new facilities have been added to the campus. A beautiful new academic complex has been completed, a new learning resource center, a part of the Carl Augustus Rudisill Library and the Belk Centrum, a small auditorium. Included is the renovation of the Daniel Efird-Rhyne classroom building and Mauney resident hall.

He would like to see Lenoir-Rhyne continue the emphasis on renovation. Beyond this President Allran wants to see the college increase the financial aid for students, uphold excellent academic standards, strive for a better athletic program, and increase academic scholarships.

The entire Lenoir-Rhyne community thanks Acting President Allran for his unending dedication and commitment to improving our campus.

Dedication Service

R. A. Yoder Memorial November 12, 1983

One of the founders of Lenoir-Rhyne, Dr. Robert Anderson Yoder (1853-1911), was honored during the dedication of an armillary sundial. Dr. Yoder, along with Pastor A. L. Crouse, Pastor W. P. Cline and Pastor J. C. Moser, founded the college in 1891. Dr. Yoder was Lenoir Rhyne's first president. He was also a teacher and architect. He designed the Old Main, which served as the college's main building until it burned in 1927.

The massive armillary sundial, standing four feet and weighing 900 pounds, is made of hoops and rings and symbolizes the arts and sciences, which were so dear to Dr. Yoder. The monument now stands on the site of the former Yoder Science Building.

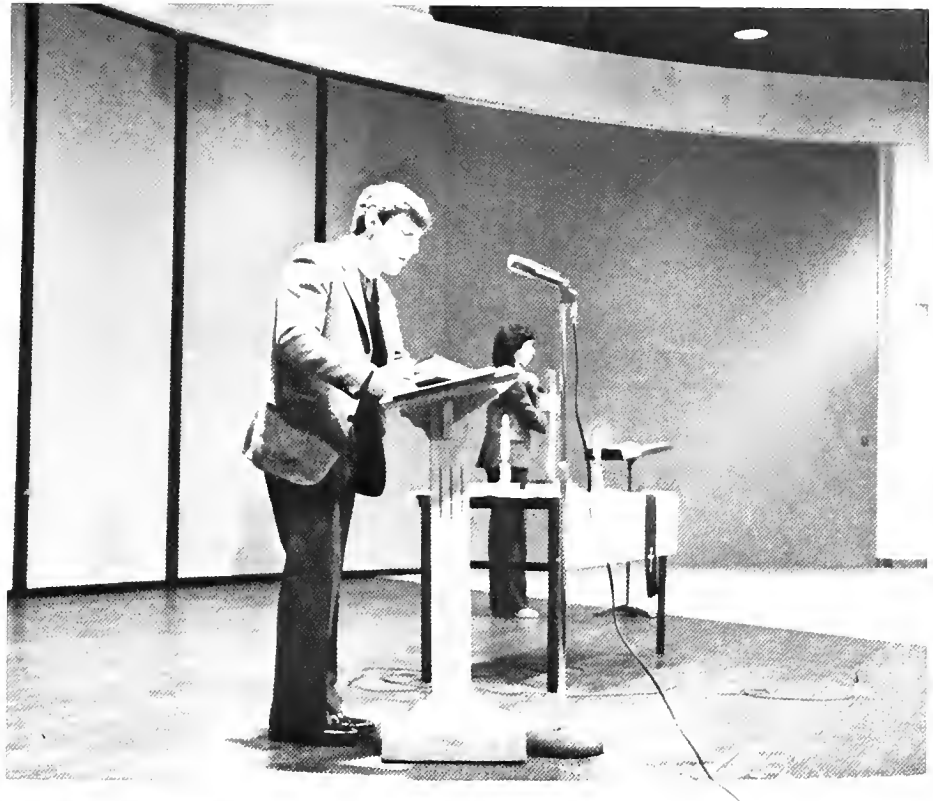

Opportunity for worship each evening is provided on campus. Students, with the help of Chaplain Just, are responsible for devotions one night a week in each dorm.

The campus communion takes place each Thursday evening in the Cromer Center Area; clergy and ordained clergy on the Lenoir-Rhyne faculty participate with students serving as worship assistants.

Each Wednesday during the 10:00 am break, Chapel is offered to all in the Belk Centurum.

Lenoir-Rhyne College A Cappella Choir

Under the skillful direction of Professor E. Ray McNeely, Jr., a native of North Carolina and 1963 graduate of Lenoir-Rhyne, the A Cappella Choir is one of the prominent college activities. Now in its forty-eighth year, the nationally known choir is noted for its musical ability.

The Lenoir-Rhyne Choir is one of the original a cappella choirs in southeastern U.S. and has grown in size and excellence. Long months of diligent practice are climaxed by the annual Christmas concert, Sunday tours, and week long tour in March. This year the choir tour included singing at churches in New York.

Directors' Showcase is the culmination of Drama 308, an upper level directing class here at L-RC. The plays are completely directed and staged by students as part of their theatrical education. The Directors' Showcase gives these students the opportunity to put into practice the skills they have learned through careful classroom study of the directing process. Directors' Showcase is a fine demonstration of the quality of education available at L-RC.

Mime Workshop

The Lenoir-Rhyne Players presented a Mime Workshop, which was free to the community, on January 7, 8 and 9. C. Jane Johnson artist-in-residence for Lenoir-Rhyne Playmakers, led the workshops. The cast for the Playmaker production, "Beyond Words: Mime and Friends," assisted in the workshop.

The workshop included instruction in mime techniques. Body control, self-awareness exercises and creative space exploration were some of the techniques participants learned. Participants also learned to work with others, who experience differences in potential to hear the spoken word. Participants were encouraged to communicate in other ways other than just talking.

Homecoming '83

*The theme of Homecoming 1983 is Salute to M*A*S*H* and All the Armed Forces. Kelley Nakahara, Nurse Kellye, is the special guest to our campus to help initiate the Homecoming activities and to cap off Spirit Week.*

*Kelley Nakahara is known for her role as an operating room nurse. The M*A*S*H* series earned an Emmy award for an episode, "Hey Look Me Over," which told of Nurse Kellye's background.*

*Friday Afternoon, November 11, Kelley Nakahara kicks off the festivities with an autograph session. Later at the pep rally bloopers from M*A*S*H* is shown, along with features from the cheerleaders and the Dance Company. Following the pep rally is a beautiful fireworks display, and a "Section Eight" (Klinger) dance.*

Saturday is the parade with Kelley Nakahara as the grand marshal. Along with the floats made by the students are five local bands under the direction of Lenoir-Rhyne's band director Joe Secrest. Later in the evening is a semi-formal dance for the campus.

The highlight of the weekend is the crowning of the new Homecoming Queen, Julie Acquino, during halftime of the football game played against Newberry College.

Other winners for LR were Alan Sigmon in the 880y run and Don Sillemann in the 3 mile run.

*at Gardner-Webb 26 March (Bulldog Invitational)
Only three LR athletes attended this meet. Senior Alan Sigmon took 5th in the 880y run, with freshman Mike McLean 6th.

*at High Point College 29 March
1. Livingston 101; 2. High Point 95; 3. Lenoir-Rhyne 39; 4. Elon 23. Rick Stallings scored 11 points and Alan Sigmon 10 to lead the Bears here. Stallings' win in the 440y intermediate hurdles was the Bears' only win of the day. Sigmon added runner-up efforts in the mile and 3 mile runs.

*at Davidson College 2 April (Davidson Relays)
Lenoir-Rhyne's 2 mile relay team, consisting of Mike McLean, Rick Stallings, Don Sillemann, and Alan Sigmon, finished 11th in competition here. The team's time of 8:32.1 is apparently a school record for the event.

*at Mars Hill 21 April
1. Mars Hill 127; 2. Lenoir-Rhyne 45; 3. Milligan 6; 3. Maryville 3. Less than a full team went to Mars Hill due to scheduling conflicts. Mike McLean added another win for LR with his victory in the 880 yard run.

Said Hill, "The first thing I think of when I think of Alan, is that he is the mainstay of the track team. He's always shown the most interest and has really been a large part of our program."

The Student Government Association represents each student on campus. It meets every other Tuesday night throughout the year. It encourages participation campus wide so students may know the current issues concerning them.

The executive Cabinet is made up of representatives from all constituent bodies. The Student Court is the judicial branch of the SGA which is administered by a student elected to the position of Chief Justice. It tries cases of student infractions. The legislative responsibilities include revising policies which affect students. SGA acts as the students' voice in the administrative policy of the college.

Each year the SGA sponsors the Organizations Fair for freshmen and transfer students and the rental of refrigerators. The SGA also held a reception on Parents' Day and was involved in the Phone-a-thon sponsored by the Alumni Office.

Funded by the students, the SGA is responsible for distributing money to campus organizations. This year the SGA took on the responsibility of the Resident Area Council which is represented in the SGA meetings by each Resident Area President.

"It takes so much to be a full human being that there are very few who have the enlightenment or the courage to pay the price . . . One has to abandon altogether the search for security and reach out to the risk of living with both arms. One has to embrace the world like a lover. One has to accept pain as a condition of existence. One has to court doubt and darkness as the cost of knowing. One needs a will stubborn in conflict, but apt always to total acceptance of every consequence of living and dying."
